My dear Mr Garrison

My dear young friend Arthurel Biggs has kindly given me your address, and tells me she has written to you to offer you the hospitality of their House and also to your son and daughter should you have time to visit the Wilds I need not say how much pleasure it would give me to have the honour of seeing personally one whom for so many years I have respected and loved for his true unselfish heroism, and how I have watched the gradual progress of events which you have been honoured by our heavenly Parent in being made his agent. At my age 76 I can say how much more I can depart in peace, since I have seen the salvation he has sent to our oppressed be them. He has blessed and will to all eternity bless you, and through you all belonging to you He has given to me in the noble-hearted grand daughters of your late friend Mr Ashurst the loving ten der kindness of grance daugh ters. Lonely indeed should I often have been but for them

My cousin Mr. A Pattison wrote to me. She said you had a small parcel for me from Wm Ashby. She much regretted she did not see you before your departure.
I write not further informal on your time. I trust should I not see you here we may meet in that future to which I am hastening Dear Mr Garrison
Yours with deep respect
Jane Ashby
